BUCKEYE BRIEFS

Dr. Scovill Dies.
Wooster, O., Nov. 30.—Rev. Sylvester F. Scovill, D. D., LL. D., formerly president of the University of Wooster, died at his home in this city after an illness of four days from pneumonia.

Shot by His Brother.
Piqua, O., Nov. 30.—Porter Stafford was shot by his brother Harry, while out hunting, and is in a very serious condition. The entire load, scattering, entered his face, breast and shoulders. Blood poisoning is feared.

Defaulter Ends Troubles.
Bucyrus, O., Nov. 30.—Confronted with a charge of defalcation in falsifying amounts on pay checks of employees of the Toledo & Ohio Central railroad, Lewis Irwin, 25, shot and instantly killed himself in the office of the company.

Katie's Admirer Jailed.
Canton, O., Nov. 30.—Frank Ladue, an admirer of Katie Manz, accused of murdering her sister, who came here to help the girl in her case, was locked up in jail on his own accord. Ladue said he was afraid he would kill Katie's father if he met him.

Columbus Switchman Killed.
Portsmouth, O., Nov. 30.—James Bryan, employed as a Norfolk & Western switchman, stepped in front of a Baltimore & Ohio train here and was instantly killed. The engine of his train was blowing off steam and this obscured the Baltimore & Ohio train. His home was in Columbus.

Stole to Get Winter Home.
Fremont, O., Nov. 30.—Arrested for burglarizing a local clothing store, Ray Dodway confessed, police say, and directed the police to the hiding place of the stolen plunder. Dodway says he committed the crime because he wanted a winter home, is ill and needs medical attention, police say.

Policeman Kills Firebug.
Toledo, O., Nov. 30.—Accosted by Officer Cruise as he emerged from the Temple moving picture theater, which he had set afire, an unidentified man opened fire on the policeman, and in a running duel, was shot and killed. An empty kerosene bottle was found in the dead man's clothing.

Drys Plan Hot Campaign.
Canton, O., Nov. 30.—The Ohio dry congress adopted resolutions outlining a plan of attack upon the liquor interests next fall in what John S. Rutledge, superintendent of the Cleveland district of the Anti-Saloon league, who spoke to the congress, predicted would be the greatest struggle against the liquor traffic that the state has ever seen.

"Burglar Jim" Confesses.
Columbus, O., Nov. 30.—Bent and broken with age and many years spent in various penitentiaries, old "Burglar Jim" Anderson was again arraigned in police court. He was charged with having burglars' tools in his possession. With tears in his fast dimming eyes, he entered a plea of guilty. He was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $800.

Honor Judge Taylor's Memory.
Cleveland, O., Nov. 30.—Every streetcar wheel in the city stopped for five minutes in honor of the memory of the late Robert W. Taylor, federal judge for the northern district of Ohio. It was Judge Taylor who untangled the Cleveland streetcar situation and secured the passage of the ordinance under which the streetcar companies are now operating.

Admits Attacking Girl.
Marietta, O., Nov. 30.—Ernest Taylor, a Baltimore & Ohio brakeman of Zanesville, O., pleaded guilty before Mayor Leeper to a charge of attacking 13-year-old Marguerite Gerring of Louisville, Ky. Taylor was bound over to the grand jury and was sent to the county jail. Miss Gerring arrived here at midnight Saturday to visit in this city. No one was at the station to meet her and Taylor offered to direct her to her destination. Instead he led her to the outskirts of the city. Her screams frightened him away.

MAY END FIGHTING GAME

Death of Gerhardt Starts Opposition Among Ohioans.
Lima, O., Nov. 30.—The death of Leo Gerhardt, 21, following a boxing contest with Jack McHenry here will, it is expected, put an end to prizefighting and public boxing exhibitions in the state. Governor Harmon has already in the past expressed himself as opposed to these, but in spite of this attitude a number of cities have continued to permit them to be held. A movement to bring about the complete abolition of such contests in the state was started by local residents, and the matter will be called to the attention of Governor Harmon as soon as he returns from Frankfort, Ky.

FIRE HEROINE DIES

Girl Who Led Companions to Safety Succumbs to Injuries.
Newark, N. J., Nov. 30.—One of the heroines of Saturday's holocaust died in the city hospital, the twenty-fifth victim of the disaster. She was Anna Haag, forewoman of the Wolf & Company factory. While the factory was ablaze she led a score of her fellow workers to safety through the flames and smoke to a fire escape. A blast of flame and gas knocked her from the escape and she was fatally injured in the fall.

A Pretzel.

"A cracker with crumps, my son. Now go to bed."—St. Joseph News Press.

ROPKE IS SENTENCED

Louisville Embezzler Pleads Guilty and Gets Off Easy.
Louisville, Ky., Nov. 30.—August Ropke, who embezzled $1,150,000 from the Fidelity Trust company, withdrew his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty when presented in criminal court. The commonwealth recommended two years in the penitentiary on each case, and the jury withdrew to consider. Ropke was sentenced to an indeterminate imprisonment of from 10 to 18 years. With good behavior he can get out in eight years.

THEIR ENGAGEMENT.

He Told Her She Would Return to Him, and She Did.
She entered the room hastily. He was waiting her.
"I was afraid you would be thinking I had forgotten," she said.
"No," he responded calmly, in the tone of one who is master of himself. "An engagement is an engagement with me."
She was a beautiful girl. A wealth of chestnut hair rippled below the wide brim of her bonnet. Her close fitting tailored gown yielded to every movement of her supple form.
He was a bit above the average height, a clean cut, square chin and nose, whose every expression bespoke self reliance. As he looked at her his glance was deferential, yet not timid.
"It has been a long while since we saw each other," he remarked.
"Yes, nearly a year," she replied. "But do you remember when I left that time you said I would have to come back?"
"Yes. You should have come sooner than this."
"But I have been so busy—going and coming, dances, dinners, the theater and all."
"I know. And you were married too?"
His voice did not tremble as he asked this, yet across her face there flashed a quick tinge of humiliation.
"I—I would rather not speak of that," she observed, almost coldly. "That is all over. We—we—it was to be expected. The truth is we were not meant for each other. So I—I got a divorce."
"It was better so, no doubt," he responded gently. "Won't you sit down?"
She took the chair he indicated, and as he looked down at her she flashed him a sudden smile.
"I was afraid of you the last time," she said merrily.
"But you are not afraid now?"
His voice seemed to give her assurance. She smiled again.
"No, indeed!"
He put his fingers beneath her dimpled chin and tilted her bonny head back, then gazed at her earnestly. Her limpid eyes looked up at him trustfully. The rose pink of her cheeks came and went fitfully. The white of her throat throbbled with each breath. He bent nearer to her, still with that fixed gaze. Her lips were parted.
He raised his head, and she looked out of the window silently.
There was a pause. At last she spoke.
"What are you studying about? What have you decided?"
"I think I'll have to fill two of your teeth," he said quietly. "The rest are all right. You have taken better care of them than most women do."—Life.

The Persian Crow's Beak.
There is a weapon known as the crow's beak which was formerly much in use among men of rank in Persia and north India. It was a horseman's weapon and consisted of a broad curved dagger blade fixed at right angles to a shaft, pickax fashion. The shaft incloses a dagger, unscrewing at the butt end. This concealed dagger is a very common feature of Indian arms and especially of the battleaxes of Persia.

An Amendment.
A health hint says, "Do not bolt your food." And a comedian comes back with the observation, "It is much better to use a padlock."—Exchange.

To Fight Crippen's Will.
London, Nov. 30.—Ethel Clare Leneve will not get the estate of Dr. H. H. Crippen without a fight. Attorneys Seymour, Williams and Coy filed with the court an intervening notice on behalf of unnamed parties, praying that the will, which left all to Miss Leneve, should be set aside. Dr. Crippen left a son in the United States.

Thirty Million For Waterways.
Washington, Nov. 30.—Following a conference with President Taft and General Bixbey, chief of army engineers, Representative Alexander of New York, chairman of the house committee on rivers and harbors, issued a statement that the annual waterway bill as planned for the coming session of congress would carry about $30,000,000.

MARK TWAIN

A New Edition

1 1/2 Price

Now for the first time you get a complete set of all Mark Twain's writings at just exactly one-half the price they have ever been sold before. This is a new edition, just as complete as the old one, which still sells, by the way, at $50.00. This new edition is only $25.00—for the 25 volumes.

It had been Mark Twain's ambition to have his books in every American home, and he made a great personal sacrifice to bring about this remarkable opportunity—for the first time in the history of publishing, copyrighted books are sold at the price of non-copyrighted books—the chance will not come again.

But for Mark Twain's action this would have been impossible. Never before has a copyrighted library set of a standard author's works been issued at such a low figure.

His Complete Works—25 Beautiful Volumes

Brander Matthews says: "Mark Twain will be included in that group of writers headed by Molière and Cervantes. With the exception of Count Tolstol, Twain was the greatest of recent modern writers, and will be handed down to posterity through the trio of his works 'Huckleberry Finn,' 'Tom Sawyer,' and 'Pudd'nhead Wilson.' Twain is a greater stylist than Stevenson or Thoreau, and his 'Man that Corrupted Hadleyburg' is one of the finest works in English literature." Mark Twain himself wrote a preface to this edition. Brander Matthews has written the biographical criticism of Mark Twain and his work. There are portraits of the author at periods when the different books were in process of writing.

There are beautiful pictures by such artists as Frost, Newell, Smedley, Thulstrup, Clinedinst, Kemble, and Oppen. The binding is in rich red rep silk book cloth, with title labels stamped in gold. The books are printed on white antique wove paper, especially made for this edition. Each volume is of generous size and bulk, 5x7 1/4 inches.

Johnson Training.
Chicago, Nov. 30.—Jack Johnson is not taking any chances of getting fat and slow and from now until he resumes his theatrical tour after the holidays will spend about an hour each day at road and gymnasium work.

Johnson has Walter Monahan, a young heavyweight, as a sparring partner here and will box a few rounds each training stunt.

Yesterday the champion ran about five miles over the boulevard near his home and boxed four rounds with Monahan. He repeated the same stunt today.

Johnson has taken on considerable weight and was slow and short-winded yesterday, but said he expected to get in fair shape in short order. He expects to sail for Europe in March and when he reaches Paris may meet either McVey or Jeanette, provided the promoters offer enough money.

Gray Hair Restored
My hair was getting quite gray and falling out rapidly and I was troubled with a terrible itching of the scalp. My head was full of dandruff, which fell upon my clothes and kept me continually brushing it off. While on a visit to Rochester I heard of your Sage and Sulphur for the hair. I got a bottle and used it. A few applications relieved the itching, my hair stopped falling out and gradually came back to its natural color. It is now a nice dark brown color, soft, glossy and pliable. Several of my friends want to use it, and I want to know what you will charge me for six bottles of it.

Sharon, Mercer Co., Pa.

Grew Hair on a Bald Head
For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is fairly covered and keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.
